

Professor Adrian Bejan – Recipient of 2017 Ralph Coats Roe Medal

We would like to congratulate Professor Adrian Bejan on his winning the 2017 Ralph Coats Roe Medal, one of the major awards of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Professor Bejan was cited for, “permanent contributions to the public appreciation of the pivotal role of engineering in an advanced society through outstanding accomplishments as an engineering scientist and educator, renowned communicator and prolific writer.”

Professor Bejan is J.A. Jones Professor of Mechanical Engineering at Duke University, USA. He was Visiting Chair Professor of Engineering at the Department of Building Services Engineering, PolyU in 2015.

The Ralph Coats Roe Medal will be awarded to Professor Bejan at the Honors Assembly gala during the International Mechanical Engineering Congress & Exposition in Tampa, Florida on 5 November 2017.

A press release is posted on Duke University’s website: <http://pratt.duke.edu/news/bejan-wins-2017-ralph-coats-roe-medal>